

WOMEN'S STUDIES @E-SOURCES ON THE WEB

by

K.P.Padmavati*

ABSTRACT

Author describes briefly what is woman's information? and its importance. Lot of women and gender related information is available of various web-sites. The database on women information service is made available and supported by the international information centre and activities for the women's movement, website on the Internet (<http://www/iiav.ne/mapping-the-workd>). Author has given many e-sources on women. They are grouped broadly as follows:

- women's History links
- Archives and collection
- Thesis and Dissertations on women
- E-journal's on women
- Women's studies statistics
- CD ROM on women's studies.
- biographies on women
- conference proceeding on women
- Abstracts on women's studies.
- women studies Directories etc.

The article lists only websites.

* Librarian , Mother Teresa Womens University ,Kodaikanal.
