ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First of all I would like to express my deepest and sincere gratitude to my esteemed supervisor Professor Surinder Kumar, Director Giri Institute of Development Studies Lucknow, U.P. India, Formerly Head of Economics Department and Dean Academics Affairs M.D. University Rohtak, for his patience, guidance, encouragement and advice through my research work. It was his constant invigilation which made this work possible. His insight into the subject was always a constant source of inspiration for me and I learned a lot from his incisive comments, valuable suggestions and expert guidance. He guided me in every aspect of this thesis work in order to maintain its standards of quality. He took a keen interest in the work, its progress and in collecting the draft despite his busy schedule.

I am especially grateful and indebted to Dr. Rajesh Kumar Assistant Professor, Economics Department Maharshi Dayanand University Rohtak. He assisted me at every stage of my work by solving academic problems, providing new ideas whenever I was stuck up. Despite, his busy schedule, he devoted huge amount of his valuable time to solve all types of problems which emerged in my research work.

I am also thankful to all faculty members especially Professor Santosh Nandal, Head, Department of Economics, Maharshi Dayanand University Rohtak for their kind help in completing this research work. I sincerely express my gratitude to the non teaching staff of economics department and entire library staff, for availing the necessary facilities, which were needed for the completion of this thesis work.

It is with a profound and sincere gratitude that I dedicate this thesis work to my beloved late parents (Andrew Kabuka and Rachel Nyakerario), my step-mother Dinah Sarange who has been a source of inspiration. This dedication is extended to my sisters and brothers more especially Dorcas and her husband Fred Nyagaka, Dennis Mirwoba and his wife Jerusa Nyanchama, Dr. Eric Kabuka and his wife Jiwanti, my cousin Ken Ombaba, Assistant Lecturer Moi University Garissa Campus who provided moral support, encouragement, prayers and financial support throughout my studies in this peaceful and beloved country, India.

Lastly, I acknowledge my gratitude to the Management of Giri Institute of Development Studies, Lucknow, U.P., India all friends, especially Dr. Goli, Faculty Member, Dr. Manoj Sharma, Mr. Masoor Research Giri Institutes of Development Studies, Lucknow, Miss Grace Njeri, Staff Member at Kenya Energy Regulatory Commission and Dr. John Bonuke (Moi University) for the inputs they provided into my work. I will not forget to thank my juniors especially Mr. Phillemone Nzitonda, research scholar department of economics, Mr. Zablon Ogonyo research scholar Faculty of Law, Mr. Castro Momanyi former L.L.M student Faculty of Law of M.D.University Rohtak, Miss. Frida Kunsa, former student in MA Economics, Miss. Ednah Maguto (5 year integrated economics Honors), Linet Bwoma and many others who gave great assistance from all angles. In spite of all the help and guidance from so many people, there still exist lacunae and some lapses, these are entirely mine.

Dated........................                                                                       Peter Omae Kabuka

Place: Rohtak