ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and foremost I would like to thank almighty for providing me with the strength and ability to pursue this doctoral degree. The work presented in this thesis would not have been possible without my close association with many people who were always there when I needed them the most. I take this opportunity to acknowledge them and extend my sincere gratitude for helping me make this Ph.D. thesis a possibility.

I would like to start with the person who made the biggest difference in my life, my mentor, Dr. Bindhu O.S. It has been an honor to be her first Ph.D. student. She has taught me, both consciously and unconsciously, how good research is to be done. I appreciate all her contributions of time, ideas, and support to make my Ph.D. experience productive and stimulating. Her joy and enthusiasm towards research has been contagious and motivational for me, even during tough times in the Ph.D. pursuit. She has been there, for the last five years, motivating and inspiring every bit of me towards new possibilities in life. She has been a role model to me, taking up new challenges every day, tackling them with all her grit and determination and always thriving to come out victorious. It’s her vigor and hunger to perform in adverse situation, which has inspired me to thrive for excellence and nothing less. I was apprehensive about completing my doctoral studies, where things were not in my favour. Dr. Bindhu came to my rescue with her intelligent ideas, thought provoking discussions and comprehensive understanding to help me sail through the initial fumbling. Her attitude of living every moment as it comes, making serendipitous observation and converting them to new possibilities, correlating ideas and understanding the obvious has helped me come a long way and will always guide me in future. She made me realize what I had only heard, “When the going gets tough, the tough gets going”. I will never find words to tell what I owe to her, and if I start doing it, I would not know where to stop. She is “perfection personified” for me. I thank her for everything. I also thank Malavika and Mahi (daughters of Dr. Bindhu) for their pleasant presence which lightened and brightened the otherwise rigorous discussion hours at her place.

I would like to thank Dr. Chenraj Roychand (Chairman, Jain University), Dr. Krishna Das Nair (Chancellor, Jain University) and Dr. Sundarajan N, (Vice Chancellor, Jain University) for giving me an opportunity to pursue doctoral program and for all their kind support. I wholeheartedly thank Dr. Sandeep Shastri (Pro Vice Chancellor, Jain University) for sharing enormous knowledge in the research methodology classes and for guiding through all the procedures related to PhD. I thank Dr. Jayagopal Uchil, Dean of sciences, Jain University, for providing us the opportunity to carry out the work in a hassle-free atmosphere and also for giving critical suggestions that helped in improving the writing and presentation of this research work. I extend thanks whole heartedly to Dr. Mythili P. Rao, Dean - Languages, Humanities & Social Sciences, Director - School of Humanities & Social Sciences and Co-ordinator - Research Programmes for quickly responding to any kind of queries or concerns. Dr. Varalashmi K N, Director, School of Sciences, for her support and encouragement throughout the doctoral program. I gratefully acknowledge the Department of Science and Technology, Government of India for supporting my Ph. D work through the DST-INSPIRE Junior Research Fellowship (25.08.2011 to 31.07.2013) and Senior Research Fellowship (1.08.2013 onwards).

My sincere thanks to Prof. Leela Iyengar, Adjunct professor, School of Sciences, for her invaluable supervision, support, motivation, healthy discussions and constructive criticism. For being with me as an elderly figure throughout. Her scientific inputs, personal help and friendly nature has always made me feel at ease with her and I could always look up to on her for any support during my course of Ph.D. I thank her wholeheartedly for correcting my manuscript and guiding me at every crucial point.

I would like to express my special appreciation and thanks to Professor Dr. Krishna Venkatesh, former Dean and Director, Centre for Emerging Technologies, Jain University who has been a great mentor for me. He has always been so kind, helpful and motivating. He has taught me another aspect of life, that, “goodness can never be defied and good human beings can never be denied”. He has always been there for me with his fatherly hand whenever I needed it the most. His constant guidance, cooperation and support has always kept me going ahead. I owe a lot of gratitude to him for always being there for me and I feel privileged to be associated with a person like him during my life. His advice on both research, personal life as well as on my career have been priceless.

I thank Dr. Sudha Deshmukh (former Dean of Sciences and Director CPGS) and Dr. Sunil S. More, former co-ordinator of Biochemistry, CPGS, Jain University for their support during the PhD tenure at CPGS. I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to Dr. Aranganathan and Dr. Malini, Department of Biochemistry, School of Sciences, Jain University, for all kind of support given during the course my Ph.D. I would also like to thank Dr. Padmavathi, Dr. Usha, Dr, Shrividya Shivakumar, faculties, Department of Microbiology, School of Sciences, Jain University for their valuable suggestions and all kind of support rendered through my research. I also thank Dr. Mala Majumdar, Dr. Kumudini Satyan, Dr. Vani, Dr. Ramesh, Department of Biotechnology, School of Sciences, Jain University for taking research methodologies classes and overall support.

The work wouldn’t be complete without me acknowledging the valuable suggestions and infrastructural support from Dr. Gopalkrishna, Dr. Ramamoorthy S., Prof. N. Narsimha Moorthy, Prof. TGS Moorthy, Dr. Ramanarasimha, Dr. C.B Mohan, Dr. Kathyayini H, Dr. Ravikumar Kadepagari, Dr. Nagananda Dr. KC Chandrashekhar, Dr. Muralidhara, Dr. Jagadish, Dr. Deepak Ingle, Shri Kishore and Mr. Sandeep, former faculties at Centre for Emerging Technology, Jain university.

My special thanks go to my dear friend Dr. Swetha S., for her help during plant latex collection and also for fruitful discussion and suggestion. I also thank Dr. Minchitha KU for her overall support. The list wouldn’t be complete without the revered assistance from my fellow lab mates at CET, Jain University, Mr. Sharon, for being a close friend and for his jovial and ever ready to help nature, Mr. Krishna, for his useful suggestions on purification protocols and Mr. Harish for moral support support. I also thank Mr. Raghu, Ms. Sukrutha, Ms. Ushma, Ms. Bharathi, Mr. Rahul Chand, Mr. Vivek, CET, Jain University for their overall support during my stay at Jain Global Campus.

I gratefully acknowledge the overall support and encouragement from Sri N. Lakshman, Chairman Karnataka State Pollution Control Board and Sri Shanthappa, IFS, Member Secretary, Karnataka State Pollution Control Board, Bangalore. I am highly grateful to Sri N Lakshman, Senior Environmental Officer, Bangalore South, KSPCB, Bangalore for his valuable guidance, constant support and encouragement. I highly acknowledge personal and professional help from Sri S. Madhusudhan Environmental officer, KSPCB. I extend my heartfelt thanks to Sri KM Nagaraj and Sri CM Satheesha, Senior Environmental Officers, Sri MC Ramesh, Environmental officer, Sri JN Yogananda, Deputy Environmental officer, KSPCB for their support. Special thanks go to Sri Manjuntha, SFA, KSPCB for all sorts of help during my research work. I am equally grateful to my fellow colleagues Ms. Chithralekha, Ms. Amritha A.S., Mr. Ashoka KS, Mr. Pavan, Mr. Manju R. Mr. G Raghavendra, R., Mr. Hanumanthappa H, Prakash, Shwetha, Drakshayani, Chandrashekkhar, Radha and Rajanna for their support and encouragement during the course of my studies.

A special note of thanks goes to my dearest friend Ms. Sayeeda Mussavira, JRF, Dept. of Biochemistry, my lab mate who at time have spent sleepless nights and was always my support in the moments when there was no one to answer my queries and when I needed her most. I convey my heartfelt thanks to Dr. Bhavya J. for her help during lab work, constructive discussions on scientific end, moral support and motivation and being with me in odd and even times. My association with Ms. Sayeeda Mussavira and Dr. Bhavya goes a long way since days of coursework. I am thankful to Ms. Anusha R. for help during thesis correction and overall support.

I would also like to thank all my fellow researchers Ms. Lynette Lynconl, Ms. Shwetha Reddy, Dr. Francois Niyongabo Niyonzima, Dr. Vineetha, for their invaluable suggestions, exciting discussions and entertaining moments over the course of this study. I thank Dr. Rashmi Dikshith, Ms. Oly Roy and Ms. Chainika from the Department of Microbiology for their kind support. I acknowledge Dr. Jayamohan for his help in blood withdrawal from the volunteers when required in my experiments. I also thank all other fellow researchers from the Department of Biotechnology and Microbiology for their kind support. Sincere thanks to Mr. Byraj and Mr. Nagesh (lab assistants) for their assistance in the laboratory. I also thank all my friends who supported me in writing, and incented me to strive towards my goal.

My acknowledgement will never be complete without the special mention of my dear friends Ms. Usha R., Ms. Sujatha R., Ms. R. Vani, Ms. Shylaja V. Amingad, who have been very supportive. Special mention also goes to my Uncle, Auntie, Mama, Mami, Cousins Sri Man Chand, Smt. Chola Chand, Sri Narendra Chand, Jayanthi Chand, Harish Chand, Pushkar Chand, Vinod, Kavya, Pavithra Chand for their overall support during the initial days of my stay in Bangalore.

I am very much grateful to my dad and mom for showing faith in me and giving me liberty to choose what I desired and also for all of the sacrifices that they’ve made on my behalf. I also thank my dear brothers Prakash Singh and Chandra Singh, my sweet sister Vanitha Singh for their overall help and support. Their wishes and prayer for me was what sustained me thus far.

Last but not the least I would like to thank all such people who have helped me but I might have missed listing here.
