ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I thank the Lord for showering me with His abundant blessings and giving me the strength and inspiration to complete my doctoral studies.

I am extremely privileged to be part of Christ (Deemed to be University) and am indebted to the Honorable Vice Chancellor Rev Dr. Thomas C. Mathew and the management for this opportunity to learn at this great University and for the state of art facilities that enabled my performance.

I extend a token of gratitude to Dr. Tony Sam George, Dean of Humanities and Social Sciences and Additional Director, Centre for Research for his continual guidance all through my research.

My heart filled gratitude and appreciation to my Ph.D. supervisor Dr. Tissy Mariam Thomas for her ever patient guidance and encouragement. She was knowledgeable, approachable and always ready to extend a helping hand.

I am grateful to Dr. Sebastian, Associate Director, Centre for Research and to Mr. James, Assistant coordinator, Centre for Research for always being approachable and for all the administrative support received.

I acknowledge the help of Dr. Jayasankara Reddy, PhD coordinator and Dr. Padmakumari, Associate Professor for their readiness to share their valuable suggestions at all times. I am grateful to the faculty of the Department of Psychology who obliged to validate my questionnaire and for their suggestions as well.

A word of thanks to Dr. Scott Churchill and Professor Fred Luthans for their prompt replies and help with research material and articles.
A special thankyou to Ms. Rekha Ahuja my research batch mate for being a special friend, standing by me and believing in my capabilities and for her untiring and constant support and help.

A heart overflowing with gratitude to my family for their unconditional support the last many years and for making this possible. In particular my MUM for believing in me and for her prayerful support, inspiration and encouragement which gave me the strength to excel. A special thanks to my brother Sailesh for his technical support and for always being there to lend a helping hand.

I owe a debt of gratitude to the older adults who consented to be a part of this study. They have not just made this research study possible, but also enriched my life with their zeal for life, optimism, words of wisdom and deep insights.

Lastly, I thank all my colleagues and friends who have been there to support me through their words of encouragement and solace.
