Table 4.1: Different Forms of Economic Rent

Table 4.2: Data Sources for Specific Types of Rent

Table 4.3: Type of Governance by Parties External and Internal to Chain

Table 4.4: Two Sets of Factors Determining Rules and Standards

Table 4.5: Sources of Legislative Governance

Table 4.6: Sources of Judicial Governance

Table 4.7: Sources of Executive Governance

Table 4.8: Practices and Performance outcomes of upgrading

Table 5.1: Purposes for Mixed methods based on several sources

Table 5.2: Relevant situations for Different Research strategies

Table 6.1: Sequence of activities in firm M’s value chain and approximate contribution to final product cost.

Table 6.2: Value chain map of firm H and approximate value contribution to final product cost

Table 6.3: Sequence of activities in firm S and approximate value contribution to final product cost.

Table 6.4: Data Array of Firm Rents - Technology rents

Table 6.5: Data Array of Firm Rents – Human Resources

Table 6.6: Data Array of Firm Rents – Organisation of Work

Table 6.7: Data Array of Firm Rents – Marketing

Table 6.8: Data Array of Firm Rents – R&D Rents

Table 6.9: Data Array of Resource Based Rents

Table 6.10: Data Array of Relational or Chain Rents

Table 6.11: Data Array of Exogenous Rents - Policy Rents

Table 6.12: Data Array of Exogenous Rents - Infrastructure Rents

Table 6.13: Data Array of Legislative Governance Within And Between Firms

Table 6.14: Data Array of Executive Governance Within and Between Firms

Table 6.15: Data Array of Judicial Governance Within And Between Firms

Table 6.16: Data Array of Trust Based Implementation of Governance

Table 6.17: Data Array of Process Upgrading Within Links
Table 6.18: Data Array of Process Upgrading Between Links

Table 6.19: Data Array of Products Upgrading Within Links

Table 6.20: Data Array of Products Upgrading Between Links

Table 6.21: Data Array of Changing Mix of Activities or Functional Upgrading

Table 6.22: Data Array of Evidence of Value Chain Upgrading

Table 6.23: Data Array of Order Winning Characteristics

Table 6.24: Data Array of Order Winning Characteristics

Table 6.25: Data Array of Order Winning Characteristics

Table 6.26: Data Array of the Key Product Categories

Table 6.27: Data Array of the Key Product Categories

Table 7.1: Firms classified by annual turnover (in crores of rupees)

Table 7.2: Initial product categories manufactured by survey firms

Table 7.3: Present Product Categories Manufactured By Survey Firms

Table 7.4: Product categories important to the industry in 2010

Table 7.5: Factors Contributing to Firm Success in Initial Stage

Table 7.7: Pooled factors contributing to firm success

Table 7.8: Pooled factors affecting firm success in 2010

Table 7.9: Initial and Present Success Factors compared across Sample

Table 7.10: Extent of upgrading within and between firms in the value chain

Table 7.11: The predominantly affirmative areas of upgrading

Table 7.12: Upgrading possibilities not commonly undertaken

Table 7.13: Upgrading activities pooled across categories

Table 7.14: Degree of importance of pooled factors

Table 7.15: Aspects of legislative governance predominant in the cluster

Table 7.16: Non affirmative aspects of legislative governance

Table 7.17: Judicial Governance Aspects seen among Survey Firms

Table 7.18: Source of fabric production carried out by firms

Table 7.19: Major destinations of export (Rank 1 tabulated)

Table 7.8: Analysis of Major Buyer Segments Important To Cluster

Table 7.21: Nature of value chain relationship with most valuable customer group

...foot....
List of Figures

Figure 5.1: Concurrent mixed methods Designs --------------------------131
Figure 5.2: Sequential Mixed Method Designs -------------------------------------131
Figure 6.1: Radar Chart Comparing firm H’s Assessment of industry CSFs with firm’s assessment of own performance in meeting buyer’s requirement. ------------------------437
Figure 6.2: Radar Chart Comparing Buyer’s assessment of CSFs with firm H’s assessment of own performance in meeting industry CSFs. (Buyer: Importer and worldwide distributor of furnishing fabrics)--------------------------438
Figure 6.3: Radar Chart Comparing Buyer’s assessment of supplier centered factors with firm H’s assessment of own performance in meeting buyer’s requirement (Buyer: retailer well as importer and distributor of made up categories in own brand, own brand in other stores) -----------439
Figure 6.4: Radar Chart Comparing Buyer’s assessment of firm performance with firm H’s assessment of own performance in meeting buyer’s requirement (importer and distributor of made ups in UK Market)---------------------------440
Figure 6.5: Radar Chart Comparing firm M’s assessment of buyer’s requirement with firm’s assessment of own performance in meeting buyer’s requirement -----------------------------------------441
Figure 6.6: Radar Chart comparing Buyer's assessment of supplier centered factors with firm M’s assessment of own performance in meeting buyer's requirement (importer and worldwide distributor of furnishing fabrics) --------------442
Figure 6.6: Radar Chart comparing firm S’s assessment of buyer’s requirement with firm’s assessment of own performance in meeting buyer’s requirement ------------------------443
Figure 6.7: Radar Chart comparing firm S’s assessment of own performance with buyers assessment of supplier centered factors ----------------------------444
Figure 7.1: Degree of Importance of Product Categories ----------------------456
Figure 7.2: Pooled factors enabling firm success in the initial period--------459
Figure 7.3: Pooled factors enabling firm success in 2010 ------------------469
Figure 7.4: Indications of upgrading activities Taken Up By Firms--------476
Figure 7.5: Aspects of upgrading not commonly undertaken---------------479
Figure 7.6: Sources of Legislative Governance-----------------------------483
Figure 7.7: Legislative governance aspects not common in firms --------484
Figure 7.8: Aspects of Judicial Governance Common in Firms -------------486
Figure 7.9: Major destination of Sales (Rank I) ------------------------489
Figure 7.10: Major buyer segments of Importance -------------------------491
Figure 8.1: Process Upgrading: Predominantly Negatively marked-------517
List of Annexures

Annexure I
INTERVIEW SCHEDULE.................................................................563

Annexure II
RATING SCALE EXAMINING THE OPINION OF SUPPLIER FIRMS REGARDING THE RELATIVE IMPORTANCE OF CRITICAL SUCCESS FACTORS IN THE HOME TEXTILE INDUSTRY..............................................................571

Annexure III
RATING SCALE EXAMINING THE OPINION OF SUPPLIER FIRMS REGARDING THEIR PERFORMANCE WITH REGARD TO CRITICAL SUCCESS FACTORS IN THE HOME TEXTILE INDUSTRY..............................................................572

Annexure IV
ASSESSING THE VIEW OF KEY BUYERS REGARDING SUPPLIER CAPABILITIES ..............................................................573

Annexure V
LIST OF CASE STUDY INTERVIEWS WITH DATE, TIME AND CODE ........................................................................574

Annexure VI
- LIST OF GENERAL INTERVIEWS WITH DATE AND CODE ..................................................................................576
- LIST OF FOCUSED INTERVIEWS WITH DATE AND CODE ..................................................................................577
- LIST OF INTERVIEWS WITH SECOND TIER MANUFACTURERS WITH DATE AND CODE ..........................578