Acknowledgements

Apart from the personal efforts and steadfastness of work, constant inspiration and encouragement given by a number of individuals served as the driving force to enable me to submit this thesis in the present form. Inspiration, guidance, direction, co-operation, love and care—of all came in my way in abundance as it seems almost an impossible task for me in adequate terms. I am deeply privileged to evince a word of thanks to everyone who played a positive role in the completion of my research work. With the grace of God I have been enlightened and empowered to complete my work successfully.

First of all, I express my respectful thanks and deep sense of gratitude to my guide Dr. Yogendra K., Assistant Professor, Department of P.G. studies and Research in Environmental Sciences, for his guidance and suggestions during my entire research work. He continuously encouraged me to solve any problem during the research work and showed how to interpret the observations and draw conclusions. I am highly obliged to him for the cordial atmosphere in which he guided me throughout the period of work.

I am extremely grateful to my Research co-guide Dr. Mahadevan K.M., Associate Professor, Department of P.G. Studies and Research in Chemistry, School of Chemical Sciences, Kuvempu University for his inspiring guidance, endless encouragement and constructive criticism during my work. He has helped me to develop a right attitude to research and at the same time to grow up as thinking individual. His valuable assistance will always be remembered. I am profoundly grateful to him for having introduced me to the interesting and exciting area of application of chemistry in environmental science. He was there as a mentor and a good friend to answer any question I had or to guide me through my research with expertise and experience. My association with him during the entire period of my stay in the campus will be everlasting in my life.

It is my privilege to express my sense of gratitude and sincere thanks to my beloved teachers Prof. Puttaiah E.T., Prof. Krishnamurthy S.V., Prof. Narayana J., and Dr. Hina Kousar for all of the technical support given to me and my fellow researchers over the past few years.

It is my duty to express special thanks to University Grants Commission, New Delhi, for the financial support by granting Rajiv Gandhi Fellowship. Also I would like to acknowledge the library facilities at IISC, Bangalore and Kuvempu University for collecting the useful information related to my research work.
I would like to thank Mr. Gopalappa H and Mr. Suneel Setaram Naik for helping me with my experiments in the lab, they really did a great job during the years that they spent working with me. I wish to express my thanks to Mr. Nuthan, Miss. Bhavya C. All deserve extra special thanks for their assistance in conducting experiments.

Many people helped to shape my thoughts and ideas during this study: Discussions with Dr. Prakash Kariyajnanavar Department of Environmental Science, Dr. Vinay Kumar, Department of Chemistry, who gave some valuable suggestions. I would like to extend my thanks to Dr. Pradeep K.S, Dr. Girish Janney, Mr. Mohammad Naji Tares, Mr. Mookappa Naik, Mr. Ganapathi Hegde, Mr. Vivek C. Gunaga, Mrs. Arjumand Bhanu, Dr. Pradeep Kumar, Mr. Ajith, Mr. Pradeep K.T., Mr. Yuvaraja, Dr. Sudhakar, Dr. Prabhakar, Mr. Kirankumar, Mr. Shrungesh, Mr. Jagadeesh, Mr. Rudresh, for all their help and support throughout the research period and for making my research experience at Kuvempu University a memorable one.

I wish to express my thanks to the supporting staff of the department. Mr. Basavaraj G.M., Mr. Manjunath, Mr. Prakash, Mr. Santhosh, Mr. Hoby Naik, Mr. Thirtha Ramesh, Mr. Shivakumar T.V, for their co-operation during my course of research. I will not forget to thank the friendly official staff of Kuvempu University; Mrs. Padmalatha, Mr. Ravi, Mr. Vijay Kumar, Mr. Parameshwarappa whose help with many issues is appreciated.

Above all without my parents this accomplishment in my life would never have begun to take form. I hereby express my special thanks to my loving parents Mr. Narayanappa R, and Mrs. Dhakshayani Narayanappa M. for their unreserved love and support throughout my life. They gave me moral support and advice to be calm and to ensure my progress. I owe my debt of thanks to my younger brother Mr. Vijay K.N, for his affectionate encouragement.

Also, I want to express my sincere gratitude to all my teachers and friends who have guided me. Finally, I would like to thank everybody who wished me well during this important phase of my academic career.

(Mr. Madhusudhana N.)
