From the Director's Desk

The INFLIBNET has created a niche for itself not only amongst LIS community but also as an ICTenabled institution contributing to spread of knowledge through ICT. I am happy to inform the professionals that the Centre was awarded "Jury Choice e-INDIA Award 2010" in the category "Digital Learning through ICT in Higher Education Institute" for the Year 2010 for its project entitled "National Library and Information Services Infrastructure for Scholarly Content (N–LIST)". Out of 464 nominations for awards in various categories, 444 nominations were selected. There were 20 nominations under the category "Digital Learning through ICT in Higher Education Institute" for the year 2010. The award was presented to Dr. Jagdish Arora, Director and Shri Ashok Kumar Rai, Scientist D from INFLIBNET Centre during "e–India conference 2010 by Ms. Agatha Sangma, Honourable Minister of State for Rural Development, Government of India. I am happy to share that the INFLIBNET Centre has also been short–listed as one of the finalists for "Manthan South Asia Award 2010".

With these recognitions, the highly competent scientific and technical staff of the Centre is looking forward to cross many more milestones and achieve laurels and accolades in its continuing voyage with support from the entire higher education community.

Yet another Project that is growing by leaps and bounds is Shodhganga. The Centre has already signed more than 5 MoUs with various universities in India and several other universities are ready to sign-up the MoU with INFLIBNET Centre for implementation of ETDs in their universities. Total number of theses available in Shodhganga has already crossed 700. It is reliably learnt that the UGC has allocated a sizeable amount of funds for growth and development of Shodhganga project. The funds would be available not only to the INFLIBNET Centre but also to the universities with an aim to encourage them to participate in this noble project.

The Governing Board of the INFLIBNET Centre had constituted Research Area Panels (RAP) on its existing programmes as well as on new initiatives of the Centre. Both the panels met during the two quarters under report. The ongoing activities, new initiatives and accomplishments of the Centre were presented to the Members of the two panels. The members took note of a large number of programmes and projects that the Centre has undertaken and accomplished with finesse. Prof. S K Khanna, Chairman, Governing Board of the INFLIBNET Centre commented that "it is the first time in the history of INFLIBNET Centre that the Centre has demonstrated its ability to accomplish its assigned objectives and task with distinction and is getting support from the user's community as well as from the authorities in UGC". The scientific & technical staff of the Centre is highly motivated with such flattering comments from the Chairman of the Governing Board.

Yet another distinction that the Centre received was nomination of one of its scientists, namely Shri Rajesh Chandrakar as Member of FRBR Review Group. Shri Rajesh Chandrakar is the first Indian to participate in the FRBR Review Group. As a member of the FRBR Review Group, he attended the  $76^{\circ}$  IFLA Conference held in Gothenburg, Sweden from  $10^{\circ}$  to  $15^{\circ}$  August 2010.

The Centre has intensified its efforts on development of Human Resource in LIS through training programmes and awareness programmes. During the two quarters under report, five IRTPLA programmes were organised in different parts of the country in collaboration with different universities. Likewise; N-LIST User Awareness programmes were conducted in three universities across the country. Several informal lectures were also delivered by staff of the Centre in various universities and colleges. With these efforts, the number of colleges enrolled under the N-LIST Programme has grown from about 650 during the 2rd quarter of the year to around 900 during the end of 3rd quarter with tireless efforts by the Centre's Staff.

I would like to acknowledge the guidance given by the Members of our Governing Council and Governing Board during the meetings of the INFLIBNET Council and Governing Board. Their directives and guidelines have helped us a lot in our accomplishments. While thanking our existing members of the Governing Board and Council, I take this opportunity to welcome the new members of the Governing Board namely: Prof. JP Gupta, Vice-Chancellor of JP Institute of Information Technology University, Noida and Dr. P Prakash, Additional Secretary, UGC to the Governing Board of the Centre.

The Newsletter, since past several issues, is carrying a feature article on one of the topics on cutting-edge technology. This issue carries an article on "Open Journals System: an INFLIBNET initiative" by Shri Rajesh Chandrakar, Scientist-B (LS) and the undersigned. I am sure, you will enjoy reading this article and spread open access movement in your respective institutions.

eINDIA 2010 Jury Choice Award to N-LIST Project

The N-LIST (National Library and Information Services Infrastructure for Scholarly Content) Project jointly executed by the INFLIBNET Centre and IIT Delhi was awarded "Jury Choice Award e-INDIA 2010" in the category of "Digital Learning : ICT Enabled University/Higher Education Institute of the Year" for the Year 2010. Out of 464 nominations for awards in various categories, 444 nominations were selected. There were 20 nominations under the "Digital Learning through ICT in Higher Education Institute" for the year 2010. Ms. Agatha Sangma, Honorable Minister of State for Rural Development, Govt. of India presented the award to Dr. Jagdish Arora, Director and Sh. Ashok Kumar Rai, Scientist D (CS), INFLIBNET Centre at Hyderabad on 5th August 2010. Centre is responsible for extending access to e-resources to colleges. The Centre is also responsible for developing and deploying appropriate software tools and techniques for authenticating authorized users.

Under the project, individuals (including students, researchers and faculty) from colleges and other beneficiary institutions have access to more than 2,100 electronic journals, 51,000 electronic books and a bibliographic database called MathSciNet through a proxy server installed at the INFLIBNET Centre. The authorized users from colleges can access e-resources and download articles required by them directly from the publisher's website once they are duly authenticated using technologies deployed for this

The Project was formally launched by Honourable Union Minister of Human Resource Development Shri Kapil Sibal at New Delhi on 4th May 2010. As on September 30, 2010, a total number of 1399 colleges have registered themselves with the N-LIST programme including 887 colleges covered under the 12B and 2F Sections of the UGC Act. Log-in IDs and passwords for accessing e-resources have

The N-LIST project is funded by the Ministry of Human Resource Development (MHRD), under its National Mission on Education through ICT, and is being jointly executed by the INFLIBNET Centre and IIT Delhi. The project provides for i) cross-subscription to eresources subscribed by the two Consortia, i.e. subscription to INDEST-AICTE resources for universities and UGC-INFONET resources for technical institutions; and ii) subscription to selected electronic journals and electronic books for colleges. While the IIT Delhi is responsible for activity listed at (i) above, the INFLIBNET been sent to these 887 colleges after obtaining list of authorized users from them. Remaining colleges are being advised to join the initiative as N-LIST Associates. All e-resources subscribed for colleges under the N-LIST Programme are now accessible to these 887 colleges through the N-LIST Website at http://nlist.inflibnet.ac.in. IN

R & D Panels Meetings

The Governing Board of the INFLIBNET Centre has constituted two R & D Panels, i.e. i) on New Initiatives of the Centre; and ii) on Existing Programmes. The aim of constituting the Panels is to review the progress of the existing programmes and implementations of the new initiatives and to explore possibilities of taking up new initiatives. The first meeting of the two Panels were held at Ahmedbad on 7th June and 6th August 2010, respectively.

All panelists applauded the efforts made by the Scientists at the INFLIBNET Centre under the leadership of its Director. IN

Indian ETD Re-christened as "Shodhganga"

The R & D Panel, constituted to review the new initiatives of the INFLIBNET Centre, in its first Meeting, held on 7th June 2010, recommended that a new, unique and generic name should be coined for iETD (Indian Electronic Theses and Dissertations) that should be easy to pronounce and have greater pneumonic value. Besides, the new name should also reflect Indian philosophy and culture. Accordingly, INFLIBNET Centre invited its staff and panel members to suggest a suitable and creative name for this initiative. About 15–20 names came up for consideration, after thorough debate and discussions, the Centre narrowed down to using 'Shodhganga: A reservoir of Indian Theses' for this initiative.

The word 'Shodh' originates from Sanskrit and stands for research and discovery. The 'Ganga' is the holiest, longest and largest of all rivers in India. The Ganga is the symbol of India's age-long culture and civilization, ever changing, ever flowing, ever loved and revered by its people. "Shodhganga", a repository of theses and dissertations submitted to Indian universities, is expected to keep growing to a formidable size as more and more researchers submit their theses to this ever growing reservoir. The domain name of iETD is changed to http://shodhganga.inflibnet.ac.in and its logo was re-designed as shown above. IN

MG University Signs MoU with INFLIBNET Centre on Shodhganga

The MG University, Kottayam, Kerala became the first university to sign-up the MoU with INFLIBNET Centre for hosting their Ph.D. theses in to Shodhganga, a reservoir of Indian theses. Dr. Rajan Gurukkal, Vice Chancellor, MG University, Kottayam handed over first sets of 500 theses in electronic format to Sh Manoj Kumar K, Scientist D (CS), INFLIBNET Centre on 9th June 2010. As such, the theses hosted in MG University's digital library "nitya" will be mirrored at INFLIBNET's Shodhganga for extending wider access and visibility to the academic community.

Topics on Cutting-Edge Technology in LIS

"Open Journals System: an INFLIBNET Initiative" is an article under the series on cutting-edge technology in LIS. This article is written by Shri Rajesh Chandrakar, Scientist B (LS) and Dr. Jagdish Arora, Director, INFLIBNET Centre, Ahmedabad. The authors explain about the initiatives taken by the Centre in open access publishing of the scholarly content especially the peer-reviewed print journals being published by the Indian universities, wherein the centre provides platform for hosting electronic version of print journals free-of-charge and encourages faculty and researchers in universities to publish new scholarly peer-reviewed online open access journals, too. Sh. Rajesh Chandrakar is looking after the Publications, Bibliographic Standards, Database Management of theses, serials, experts and research projects, Bibliometrics and Open Journals System at the INFLIBNET Centre. Dr. Jagdish Arora heads the Institution. They can be contacted at rajesh@inflibnet.ac.in and jarora@inflibnet.ac.in, respectively.

online publication and indexing of the journal articles. Through its management system, OJS seeks to improve both the scholarly and publishing quality of refereed research. It refines indexing techniques and provides context for research. OJS is open source software freely available worldwide for the purpose of making open access publishing a viable option for more journals. The open access can increase a journal's readership as well as its contribution to the public good on a global scale.

Current Indian Scenario

A number of scholarly journals are being published from India covering a wide spectrum of subjects including several journals that are peerreviewed and are covered by premier indexing & abstracting periodicals. The current status of open access journals launched by various organisations in India is given below in the table (the table does not include the journals being hosted by the INFLIBNET Centre):

Open Journals System (OJS) is an open source solution developed by the Public Knowledge Project (PKP) through its federally funded efforts to expand and improve access to research. The OJS is designed for managing and publishing scholarly journals online. It is a highly flexible editoroperated journals management and publishing system that has been designed to reduce the time and energy devoted to the clerical and managerial tasks associated with editing a journal, while improving the record-keeping and efficiency of editorial processes. It seeks to improve the scholarly and public quality of journal publishing through a number of innovations, from making journal policies more transparent to improving indexing.

OJS provides assistance with every stage of the refereed publishing process, from submissions to

OJS @ INFLIBNET

The Centre has installed and configured OJS on server at INFLIBNET to facilitate hosting of electronic version of journals into open access mode with all processes of submission, peer-reviewing, editing, layout designing and publishing built into it. The initiative called "Open Journal System @ INFLIBET Centre" encourages universities and institutions that are publishing journals in print format to use this platform for hosting electronic version of their journals free-of-cost on server at the INFLIBNET Centre. The initiative also encourages faculty in universities to start their own open access journals using the platform offered by the INFLIBNET Centre. Currently OJS @INFLIBNET hosts three journals namely "Journal of Literature, Culture and Media Studies" published by Prof. N D R Chandra, Head, Department of English, Nagaland Central University, "Assam University Journal of Science & Technology" in two parts, namely, "Biological and Environmental Sciences" and "Physical Sciences and Technology" published by Assam University Press, Silchar under the editorial guidance of Prof. G D Sharma, Dean, School of Life Sciences, Assam University, Silchar and "ICSSR Journal of Abstracts and Reviews – Geography" published by ICSSR, New Delhi. The Centre has received a few more requests from faculty in universities. These journals are being assessed for their guality.

OJS Features and Facilities

There are a number of journals management systems for hosting the journals on Internet. The SPARC publishing resources page at http://www.webcitation.org/5Mx98xweh lists nearly 30 different journals management systems. The Centre has chosen OJS as its journal management system keeping in view the popularity of the system and various features and facilities available with the system, as mentioned below:

 Highly flexible editor-operated journal management and publishing system, developed as an Open Source Software by the PKP;

- Extends assistance at every stage of refereed publishing process, from submissions through to online publication and indexing;
- Facilitates configuration of requirements in terms of sections, sub-sections, reviewing process, etc., that can be customized to suit the individual journal's need;
- Facilitates online submission and management of content distributed on multiple servers;
- Supports subscription module with delayed open access options;
- Supports content in multiple formats including text (structured and unstructured), audio, video, graphics and animation, etc. and reading tools for content;

- Supports email alerts and comments from readers;
- Full-text of the journal articles are indexed automatically for powerful searching;
- Provides persistence URL to each journal;
- OJS is compliant to Open Archives Initiative Protocol for Metadata Harvesting (OAI-PMH). Journals hosted on OJS are, therefore, viewed as a part of universal digital library system. Metadata (bibliographic details) from journals hosted on OJS platform is harvested by the indexing services (called service providers or specialized search engines like ARC, OAISTER, Google Scholar, etc.) so as to provide unified and organized access to digital content distributed across OAI-PMH complaint repositories; and
- Complete context-sensitive online help support.

Eligibility: Who can Publish Journals on OJS @ INFLIBNET

Faculty members in universities / colleges that are already publishing their journals in print / electronic format are eligible to publish their journals on OJS @ INFLIBNET. Proposals for starting new open access electronic-only (online) journals in different disciplines are also welcomed and encourages faculty in the universities and colleges to do so.

Process for Publishing Journals on the OJS @ INFLIBNET

- The INFLIBNET Centre seeks print copies of issues of journals published by the universities/colleges/institutions with a request to publish the journal in Open Journals System @INFLIBNET Centre;
- The Centre evaluates the content of journal on a number of criteria including evaluation of the issue of the journal by subject expert(s);
- On receipt of satisfactory evaluation report from the subject expert(s), publisher / editor of the journal are asked to sign a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the INFLIBNET Centre;
- Soon after signing the MoU, publisher / editor is asked to submit the electronic version of the issue(s) along with the print issue(s) of the journal to the Centre;
- Issue(s) of the journal are uploaded on the OJS server INFLIBNET and publication of the journal in open access is announced through INFLIBNET Website, listservs, blog as well as on other fora;
- Publisher of the journal (preferably the Chief Editor) is invited to the Centre to get first-hand training on OJS enabling him / her to use all features of OJS and handle the online editorial process of the journal; and
- All available back-files of the journals are uploaded on the OJS platform so as to provide access to all published issues of the journal.

Benefits of Publishing on OJS @ INFLIBNET

Users, authors and universities as publishers, as stakeholders in scholarly publishing, stand to benefit from publishing on OJS (a) INFLIBNET. The benefits of publishing on OJS (a) INFLIBNET in open access to different sets of stakeholders are as follows:

Users

- get access to full-text of journals and its back-files 24x7x365 on desktop;
- access, search and browse the content in a variety of ways, from specialized search engines like ARC, OAISTER and Google Search; and
- get e-alerts for new content on desired subject keywords.

Researchers and Faculty as Author

- Empower the Indian academic community to publish their research articles online and reach-out to wider academic community through specialized search engines like ARC, OAISTER and Google Search;
- increases visibility, use and citation through open access to scholarly articles to the academic community world-wide;
- publish in peer-reviewed open access journals and get online comments on your article from academic community;

Universities / Editors as Publishers

- free hosting service on dedicated servers, available 24x7x365, hosted at the BSNL Hosting Service with 10 Mbps Internet Bandwidth;
- Collaborate with INFLIBNET, an organization wellknown to the academic community in India;
- free, unrestricted access to OJS platform for online editorial processing of articles;
- scholarly content are made accessible on long-term basis with lifetime archiving;
- multiple number of journals and their content are hosted on a single platform;
- facilitates wider exposure to journals to the higher education community world-wide; and
- Research output of the universities gets exposed to the global community in open access environment since content from open access journals are indexed by various indexing systems.

Who can Access Journals hosted on OJS @ INFLIBNET?

Journals hosted on OJS @ INFLIBNET are accessible to all users world-wide without any restrictions. Metadata (bibliographic details) from journals hosted on OJS @ INFLIBNET is harvested by the indexing services or specialized search engines like ARC, OAISTER, Google Scholar, etc. Users may use such specialized search engines to get more comprehensive results to their search queries.

Summary

The scholarly journals are available in electronic formats for more than 20 years. The first open access journal was a 'Medical Education Online' (http://www.med-ed-online.org). The opportunity for faculty and researchers to publish in open access is scarce especially in the state government funded academic universities due to the lack of funding, technology awareness and skilled manpower. As such, this initiative of the INFLIBNET Centre successfully fulfills the gap and provides opportunity to faculty and scholars to publish in open access and increase their visibility. Hosting at OJS@ INFLIBNET on open access provides benefits to users, universities and faculty members; thus the overall benefit is extended to the academic community of the country and especially the higher education of the country when the articles get citation internationally, researchers get recognition globally and the journals get high impact factors with the open access publishing. IN
